English language requirements

If you're not from a majority English speaking country (as defined by the UK Home Office), your English language skills must be good enough for you to:

- take part in an academic interview
- study a Cambridge course that is taught and examined in English

As a guide, you would be expected to achieve a good C1 standard within the Common European Framework for Languages (CEFR) in all four competencies by the time you start at Cambridge University. Commonly, this is demonstrated by one of the qualifications listed below:

- IELTS Academic – normally a minimum overall grade of 7.5, usually with 7.0 or above in each element

- TOEFL Internet Based Test (IBT) – normally a minimum overall score of 110, with 25 or above in each element
- EU students – competence in English at C1 standard in the appropriate component of a school-leaving exam (for example, the Abitur)
- Cambridge English: C2 Proficiency – accepted with a minimum overall score of 200, with no element lower than 185
- Cambridge English: C1 Advanced – accepted with a minimum overall score of 193, with no element lower than 185, alongside other evidence of competence in English
